SUCCESS AND THRILLS MARK OUTBOARD MOTOR RACES OF LAST SUNDAY

"Havoline" Fastest Craft in Race—"Green Gold" Captures Prize in Class "B"—A. T. Leonhard Is Winner in Skiff Class.

What is estimated as the largest crowd that has ever assembled at Bay St. Louis for any occasion not excluding the bridge celebration congregated Sunday to witness the outstanding sport event of the season to date, namely, the outboard motor races held under the auspices of the Bay-Waveland Yacht club and sponsored by C. A. Breath, Sr., and Dick Cue, local agents for Johnson motors. Autos from all parts of the Coast, South Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama were parked in every available space along the Front street and streets leading to the beach while the thousands of spectators stood on the Bay of St. Louis bridge to witness the races which were held north of the traffic bridge in the Bay of St. Louis.

Thrills galore were in store for the spectators as the many boats entering the four races fought for places in the exciting contests. Several boats capsized in the speedy contests but no fatalities or casualties occurred to mar the pleasure of the spectators.

The honor of the fastest outboard motor boat in the race went to the speed boat, "Havoline," owned by Sam Taylor of New Orleans, and captained by Michael Wohlfert, when she won the "free-for-all" race of over ten miles with a time of 2 minutes and 14 seconds. "Duvic's Johnson," owned by Arthur Duvic, ran second and the "Green Gold," owned and built by Louis Gorenflo and run by Frank B. Kennedy, of Biloxi, came in third, and the "Sea Gull," owned and operated by William Connell, of Gulfport, came in fourth. The "Havoline" started about a half mile after the other dozen boats in the race, but took the lead after the first two-lap of the race.

The "Havoline" would have won first place in the "Class C" race if her tank had not gone empty after three laps of the Bay of St. Louis bridge course, when she was leading by over a mile. As it was the first boat in Class "C" to make the course the "Duvic's Johnson," whose time was 23 minutes and 48 seconds. The "Hermel," driven by Bob Estelle, of New Orleans, was second. The "Havoline, Jr." owned by Sam Taylor, of New Orleans, and skippered by Mr. Dumas, of New Orleans, came in third. "Hob" of Bay St. Louis, piloted by A. T. Leonhard, came in last. In this Class "C" race the "Aviator" overturned on the second lap.

Two boats finished the Class "B" race, the "Green Gold," run by Captain Kennedy, of Biloxi, taking first honors and the "Flea II," owned by Stanley Butte, came in second. The "Ocean Kid," owned by Louis Gorenflo and driven by Willie Dale, of Biloxi, had to withdraw from this race when it offered itself to the "Red Bug" which had capsized.

The skipper race was won by A. T. Leonhard, of Bay St. Louis, who captained an unnamed boat owned by Winfield Partridge, of the Bay.

The order of the races as sailed was: First, skiff; second, class "B," third, class "C," fourth, free-for-all.

The new yacht, "Carmita," which was brought to the Coast by Captain Arthur Duvic, Sr., was used as the judges boat. Colonel R. Lee Edwards, of the Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans, and the following officials were aboard the boat: Justin Green, Frank Green, C. A. Breath, Sr., R. T. Perkins and Dick Cue, all of Bay St. Louis.

Cups awarded for the motor boat races included the following: One from the Bay-Waveland Yacht club for the "free-for-all" race; one given by Duvic, the Johnson motor dealers in New Orleans for the class "C" race, and the other two by Breath & Cue, of Bay St. Louis.

Motion pictures were taken of the races by cameramen from New Orleans.

To Hold Other Races.

So popular did this sporting event prove that Mr. Breath and Mr. Cue, promoters, plan to stage similar races on June 17, July 15, August 12 and September 9.

Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce Announces Excursion Boat For Bay.

Captain Howze and Mr. Comfort, of Mandeville, La., were Bay St. Louis visitors Monday calling at the Chamber of Commerce to announce that they were bringing their large excursion boat to the Coast about June 15, to operate as an excursion boat along the Coast and to the neighboring islands. These gentlemen have been operating this large boat which is licensed to carry 500 passengers between New Orleans and Mandeville for the past four years. They stated they were coming to the Coast because they believed there existed a need for such a boat as they operate in the Coast waters and plan to give a matinee and evening boat trip daily.

The poppies sold Saturday were made by ex-service men at the Veterans Hospital No. 57 at Gulfport, where many thousands of the red blossoms were made this year and sold to Legions and Auxiliaries throughout the country, thus giving a small income to many ex-service men who had no compensation.

Among those assisting in the sale of the poppies were Mesdames W. L. Bourgeois, R. P. Hyams, Jr., H. G. Laudon, Mae Tudy, Misses Eleanor Hyams, Miriam Engman, Olivia Engman, Irene Sellier, Emelda Ramond, Kathleen Renshaw, Anna Dale Crawford, Elizabeth Crawford, Helen Chapman, Edith Ansley, Hermie Perkins, Marjorie Bandier, Effie Granaud Power, Lucille de Armas, Lois de Armas, Lucile Perre, Edith Ballard, Amelia Scafide, Ione Manieri, Anna Mac Blaize and Marie Quintini.

"KNOW MISSISSIPPI BETTER TRAIN"

Arrangements are being perfected for the greatest and most profitable trip ever made by the "Know Mississippi Better Train" which leaves Jackson August 7th for a sixteen day trip through the agricultural sections of the midwest and on to the Pacific Coast. More than three-fourths of the counties will be represented. Governor Dennis Murphy, who heads the organization for the train, and who is credited with being the foremost originator of the idea, is very enthusiastic over the prospects for advertising Mississippi to the people of the midwest and the capacity of the train would have to be doubled to take care of all those who made application for reservations. Hancock county has its reservation, and is represented annually.

BEAUTIFICATION OF OUR BEACH FRONT.

Running along the whole water front from Jordan river to Bayou Cadet the beach will be protected by an efficient and trustworthy sea wall, behind this wall there is in course of construction twelve-mile paved driveway, with the completion of this magnificent boulevard the whole beach line will sparkle with the advance of civilization and progress and what was once sore to the orbs shall ease them.

Modern methods have enhanced the values of real estate along the beach, as well as the property in the rear. Where roads were in an impassable condition there will soon be a thing of beauty—and a joy forever stretching its length like a ribbon along this naturally beautiful coast.

There was a time, still in the recollection of those not so aged, when this whole water front was lined with beautiful trees; without any protection from the elements, the beach gave way and crumbled before the mighty onslaughts of many storms, which carried away the old oaks and finally left the beach in a naked and deplorable condition. Man awoke at last from his lethargy and stopped the terrible encroachment by erecting a bulkhead of concrete and steel.

With the obtaining of this much-desired and longed-for condition it is now up to man to restore the ravages of the elements by planting trees and otherwise beautifying the beach. This must necessarily be left to the property holders along the water front and can be accomplished at a small cost. Evergreen trees, such as Camphors, shrubs and flowers, well-attended grasses, will all combine to beautify.

It is, therefore, up to the people. Will somebody start it?

RELIGION OUR BULWARK.

Declaring that the foundation of our present enlightened civilization in government, in society and in business, rests upon religion, President Coolidge, in a recent speech, said that "for chartered institutions of learning to turn back to the material and neglect the spiritual would be treason not only to the cause for which they were founded but to man and God."

There is food for thought here, because knowledge "without goodness is dangerous." And, as the President said, "unless our people are thoroughly instructed in its great truths they are not fitted either to understand our institutions or provide them with adequate support."

This applies, not only to schools, but to all institutions of our national fabric. It is the business, particularly, of voters, for example, to know what principles were established in this country by our forefathers in order that they may intelligently gauge the aspirations and ambitions of those who now plan for the future of the United States. It is necessary that we understand the principles of our foreign relations in order that we may see that this nation continues firm in its just relationships with other peoples.

The Sea Coast Echo has always stood for the enlightenment of the average citizen. Whenever possible it has presented the vital questions for their consideration. In local and state and national affairs the power of government belongs to the people and in order that they may exercise the ballot in a manner that will give them the control of the government it is necessary for them to know what is going on and where certain trends lead.

LET BANDITRY CARRY DEATH SENTENCE.

Bank banditry, in a measure, is becoming common and the quicker legislatures enact law carrying the death penalty for this species of crime the more effective a method will have been adopted to putting an end to a serious menace to life.

No man's life is safe when the bandit enters a place and levels a gun, to say nothing of the desperate chances he is taken. His make-up is nothing less than that of a desperado and as such we must have laws that will cope with the situation.

Daily papers a few days since carried a story where such bandit entered a Wyoming bank and riddled the body of cashier with bullets. This man died a martyr at his post, forfeited his life performing his duty while taking care of the property of others.

Similar reports later told of a bank employee at Jacksonville, Fla., who fatally shot a bandit. This, however, was the exception. Were it the rule, such form of crime would quickly diminish.

A law carrying the death penalty would prove effective. Of course, such punishment in extenuating cases, if any, would carry the power vested in a governor to commute a sentence.

Our next Legislature would perform a service of inestimable value in more ways than one. There must be an effectual stop to this sort of banditry that is running rampant over the country.

SYMPATHY TO A NOBLE FELLOWMAN.

The sympathy of every person in Mississippi goes out to Senator and Mrs. S. Joe Owen and the remainder of his family, of New Albany, in their profound grief in the loss of three young daughters when the residence burned recently. Senator Owen is editor of The New Albany Gazette and for twenty-five years has represented his county and district in the legislature. No better man ever lived than Joe Owen and it is only such characters as his that can withstand the shock of such a terrible misfortune. His newspaper friends all over the state grieve with him and hope that his own physical condition will improve.

THE MOST PHOTOGRAPHED.

The other day some enterprising reporter for The New York Times wrote an article on the most photographed persons, outside of the stars of the movies. The list, as compiled, included President Coolidge, Mrs. Coolidge, Queen Marie, Charles A. Lindbergh, the Prince of Wales, Benito Mussolini, Babe Ruth, Richard Jarvis, Jimmy Walker and James J. Tunney.

As a short intelligence test do you know who all of these persons are? If you get seven right you pass, eight is good, nine is excellent and the other one, the man you don't know, is the head of the secret service who guards the president of the United States.

APPOINTMENT OF DR. PODESTA.

Governor Bilbo's appointment of Dr. P. Podesta, of Vicksburg, as surgeon in charge of the State charity hospital at that place, will be received with general satisfaction, and his excellency is to be commended for the appointment in view of the fact of fanatical opposition.

The representative from Warren county, as a proposal (?) immediately forwarded his resignation to Governor Bilbo, and The Sea Coast Echo is of the opinion the Governor is not going to flinch one bit, but on the contrary, will accept the resignation. Unquestionably, this will be the proper course.

A Iowa couple, celebrating their wedding, drank

NEWS OF THE WEEK FROM ST. STANISLAUS COLLEGE

Next Sunday to Be Alumni Day—Banquet at Noon Hour
Preparing For Next Year College Column
Sports, Odds and Ends.

Most of our time is being devoted to preparation for our final examinations. Picnics will not interfere with the schedule this year for we will have them on Thursdays. The Grads will finish their exams this week and judging from the amount of time we are spending in review work, favorable results are expected. The other classes will keep on reviewing and most of them will be busy with exams until the last day of school.

June 3rd Alumni Day.

This coming Sunday, June 3rd, will be Alumni Day. It will be the fourth annual reunion, and, of course, we intend to make it the best ever. Circular letters were sent out last week, inviting the old boys to St. Stanislaus and a record crowd is expected. Most of them will arrive on the 10 o'clock train Sunday morning. A Mass will be celebrated at 10:45 by the Rev. Father Mahaney. Then all will register, after which the Grads will recall the happy days they spent while at St. Stanislaus.

At twelve o'clock a banquet will be served in the refectory and we do not intend to let anyone go away hungry. In the evening there will be a baseball game between the Alumni and the present varsity team.

For Sea Coast Echo Next Year.
The Grads wrote a composition last week on how Class '29 can improve their column in The Sea Coast Echo next year. We have gone through the mill and know just what should be done and what should not be done. So, Class '29 heed our advice, for we are sages when it comes to writing up the Echo column.

Last week the Grads assembled in the science hall for one of their class meetings. President Davis did most of the talking. He took down our full names and then showed us some samples of personal cards from which we were to make our selection. We all had a list of those to whom we will send invitations and from these we were able to judge how many cards we should order. All invitations will be sent out this week.

Sports.

Sunday evening, May 27, immediately after the Kiln game the Stanislaus Rocks played the Algiers Naval Station boys and won by a close score of 4 to 3. The Algiers team had a fine line-up and showed some of the best semi-pro work that has been seen on the Rockachaw diamond in many a day. They made it interesting not only for the spectators but pretty hot for the Rocks. The visitors were not easy picking by a long shot as the result of the game shows and our home lads had to keep their eyes open every moment of the game. Our renowned pitcher, "Cotton" Collier, did some fine twirling throughout the whole seven innings. Quite a few of the visitors were "biting" especially in the first four frames.

In the first inning the Algiers' team came through with one marker while the Rocks chalked two. In the second the tally board was defaced with one white mark for our team and none for the visitors. Both teams scored in the third while the fourth frame brought in one for Algiers and none for the Rocks. The seventh and last inning brought in nothing but it gave the Rocks the game because the visitors had to leave in time to catch the train bound for New Orleans. If the full time of nine innings had been played a different result might have been the outcome of the hard-fought battle.

Rockachaws to Play.

Next Sunday, June 3, the Rockachaws will play the Alumni team of Stanislaus. The game will begin at 3 o'clock and ought to prove very interesting because the Alumni have some mighty strong players on their side. Among the ex-Rocks are Henry "Zek" Bonura, Matt Montz, Marchie Schwartz, G. Y. Blaize, Jimmie LaNasa and Santina Rinaldo. Most of these above mentioned will grace the Alumni line-up. When at Stanislaus they were all crack ball players and ought to be still pretty good. However, let's hope that they do not romp over our present team too badly.

Altar Boys' Picnic at Lakeshore.
On Thursday, May 23, the Altar boys held their annual picnic at Lakeshore. There were about fifty boys and all had a fine time. The first truck left the College at about 7 o'clock with a few brothers and some boys, in order to get the things ready. The last truck left at about 8 o'clock and arrived at the picnic grounds at about 8:45.

As soon as we arrived, baseball teams were made up and games got underway. Some of the boys tried their luck at fishing, while others took it easy and did nothing. After a most enjoyable day and after everybody was either too tired to play any more or had eaten so much that he could not move around very much, the whistle blew and we jumped in the trucks for our return trip. We reached the college at 5:45 and spent the rest of the evening telling the others what a fine time we had.

Day School Class.

St. Stanislaus Day School held its closing exercises last Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The ceremonies were simple but were well performed. The school had a very successful year and all the scholars have a right to enjoy their vacation.

PLANTING OYSTERS SEED ADJACENT TO BAY CITY WATERS

$25,000 Alotted By State For Re-Enlisting Oyster Bottoms Along Coast.

Planting of approximately 150,000 barrels of seed oysters and shells over the oyster bottoms adjacent to Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Biloxi, Ocean Springs and Pascagoula, will begin immediately it was announced at a meeting of the Mississippi Oyster Commission held in Biloxi early this week at which the ways and means were discussed for the expenditure of $25,000 allotted to the commission by the state of Mississippi for re-enlisting the state oyster bottoms.

This extensive planting will be in addition to the regular planting of approximately 100,000 barrels of seed oysters and shells to be paid for out of the regular allotment of about $15,000. Those present at the meeting from the commission were: Dr. J. H. Spence, Pass Christian; Minor Russell, Ocean Springs; Gus Roberts, Orange Grove; Louis Hahn and Martin Hass, Biloxi; W. G. Grant, secretary, and Louis Staehling, chief oyster inspector, both of Biloxi. Members of the citizens committee present were: E. C. Tonsmeier, Biloxi; R. V. Abbley, Pass Christian; Jos. Zebringer, Ocean Springs and Frank Carty, Pascagoula.

FLAT TOP SECTION SCENE OF PROGRESS AS COUNTY GROWS

Residents Erect 9 Miles Telephone Poles—Girls' Camp June 20—Other News.

Many activities are reported in the Flat Top community from the Community club and Women's Home Demonstration Club. Last Saturday the women's club gave a community picnic complimenting the fathers of the community who were engaged in the erection of the telephone poles to carry lines from the Flat Top community to Picayune. This line is nine miles in length, carries four phones with a double metallic circuit. The poles were put up by the men of the community and the lineman from Picayune were hanging the wires early this week.

Next week the girls of the community will have a girls' camp at Flat Top. Miss Mayme O'Don, county home demonstration agent, will spend the whole week with the girls. The morning will be devoted to the cooking classes and the afternoon to the finishing of the required sewing and the completion of the record books, so that the girls will be eligible to attend the annual county short course to be held in the Bay June 20 and 21, at St. Joseph's Academy where the Sisters of the Convent have so kindly loaned the dormitories for the club girls during the course.

The regular monthly meeting of the Community club was held May 10, when Mother's Day and National Egg Week were celebrated. A cake was awarded to the oldest married couple present and a bouquet of flowers was given to the youngest married couple present. Members furnished the entertainment. The community is planning to have community motion picture shows given in the near future.

Among those assisting at this clinic the following should be noted: Miss O'Don, representing the home demonstration department and acting as general supervisor under Dr. Shipp; Sheriff Jas. C. Jones, who operated by lending carts and blankets; Woodmen Circle who donated a gallon of ice cream to nourish the patients; the King's Daughters who donated a case of pop for the clinic; Mrs. Charles A. Breath, who donated half a case of pop, a number of articles for the clinical use and who supplied sandwiches and coffee for mothers who could not leave their children; Mrs. Josie Olsen, who brought her auto to the clinic and assisted in transporting parents who could leave the children to and from their luncheons; Mrs. S. J. Ingram who furnishes dreams for two mothers who had to remain in the Bay Saturday night; Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois, Mrs. Claud Monti and Mrs. Shelly Lee, who aided at the clinic.

This is one of the finest pieces of work possible to do among children and those handling it deserve the commendation of the entire county.

Middle Age is Dangerous.

Good health is important. The average man pays little attention to his physical well-being until it is too late. Many diseases that occur early in life could be avoided if men and women would take notice of prolonged life before it is too late.

The following observations along that line are not from our pen. In fact, they come from an advertisement. We are not being paid to read it carefully and consider what it says. The Life Extension Institute is the advertiser; here are the messages:

As middle age approaches, there is a tendency among most men and women to decrease physical exertion and increase nervous activity, the latter a result of the growing demands of business, professional, social or domestic life.

The increased mortality at these ages would indicate some undue or increasing strain in our modern mode of existence, or a lessening resistance to disease. To meet this critical period successfully, certain principles of living should be followed.

Exercise.—After 35, strenuous, competitive exercise, such as tennis, baseball, football, boxing and wrestling, should be followed with great caution, as the strain on the heart and circulation may be injurious.

The habit of regular outdoor exercise should be fully established. Walking, rowing, swimming, hunting and fishing are all outdoor sports that can be followed into old age and are usually automatically self-regulated so that overexertion or undue fatigue is not likely to occur. Billiards is an excellent indoors form of exercise and very helpful to the middle aged.

Diet.—As middle age advances, the consumption of meat, all flesh foods and salt should be decreased, and that of fruit and vegetables, especially those of bulky character and low food value (such as spinach, lettuce, tomatoes, carrots, turnips, watercress, celery, parsnips) should be increased. The leafy vegetables are valuable for their vitamins. Constipation should be combated by proper diet, exercise, and the regular use of water between meals, especially before breakfast.

Mental Hygiene.—The habit of system and order in business methods; the avoidance of nervous worry over trifles; the facility of playing and following some hobby aside from business, and thus avoiding a lopsided use of the brain functions; courage, poise, self-control—all of these are almost magical in their protective influence during the perilous middle period. For this is when men and women break down more frequently from the cumulative effects of pin pricks of worry and nerve strain rather than from the sword thrusts of heavy cares and troubles.

Periodic Health Examinations.—Important as a thorough physical examination is at all periods of life, it is perhaps more vitally important at middle age than at any other time. To maintain your health and to prolong your life, try to practice hygiene all along the line, but first of all get yourself thoroughly examined in order that you can apply the rules of health to your own needs with intelligence and precision.

The Village Blacksmith.

Children still get up in class and recite:

"Under the spreading chestnut tree
The Village Smithy stands;

The Smith, a mighty man is he."

But the trade that was the inspiration of Longfellow's beautiful lines is almost effaced. When we pass a blacksmith now, we stop and marvel—not so much at the skill with which he works, as we used to, but at the very fact that we have seen a blacksmith.

MANAGER GULF COAST FAIR VISITS BAY ST. LOUIS FOR PROJECT
Anxious to Have Bay St. Louis and Hancock County People Interested.

"The Mississippi Coast Fair to be held at Gulfport October 30, 31, November 1, 2, 3, promises to be a big Gulf Coast exposition," A. C. Johnson, managing-director of the fair, said while on a trip to Bay St. Louis last week. Mr. Johnson is especially anxious to have the people of Hancock county to become enthusiastic over the fair and begin preparing exhibits now to show at the fair in the fall. He is engaged in getting out the fair catalogue at the present time and expects to have it in the hands of printers in a short time and ready for distribution. A more expensive list of prizes for all products will be offered this year than at any previous time he has offered.

"The Fair is a Coast wide enterprise and as much is of interest to every section in the Coast country," stated Mr. Johnson. "I want every man, woman and child on the Coast to feel this is his or her fair and come prepared to take part in making it the biggest yet held."

In discussing the advantages of a fair to a community Mr. Johnson said:

"The exhibits made show the industrial growth of the community and the arrangements of booths by the farmers show what progress they have made. It gives the manufacturers an opportunity of placing before a vast number of people the output of their plants. Live merchants are not shown in taking advantages of the general opportunity the fair gives them to advertise specialties by making a display that will create an impression on the minds of the great throngs of visitors. The generous prizes given for agricultural shows are a wonderful help to the farmers, also offers an inducement to make improvements and plant with pleasure. The community looks forward to the fair to get in touch with the new things in order to be posted when ready to buy. The great multitude that attend an exposition get pleasure and excitement with the carnival and free acts, this gives deviation and clears the mind of trouble."

IRONING OUT THE ROUGH PLACES ON THE FRONT STREET
So. Paving Co. at Work at Request County Engineer, John C. de Armas.

A number of expansions in the concrete and asphalt pavements of Bay St. Louis which have caused the streets to "buck up" in spots, causing unpleasant bumps are being removed by the Southern Paving Company for the city at the request of County Engineer John C. de Armas. This work began last week and will continue several days longer before completion.

The Southern Paving Company which has the contract for the roadway which the county is to build at the top of the seawall agreed to do this work for the city in that it is an associated company with that which did the original paving in the Bay.

This company is now engaged in receiving additional roadwork equipment for use in the construction of the new highway along the seawall, work on which will begin as soon as possible after the fill behind the wall which is being put in by C. F. Lytle Co. has sufficiently settled.

Mirrors of Mississippi

By Edgar S. Wilson

Jackson, Miss., May 31.—The question is frequently asked how many elective state offices there are in Mississippi, the terms of the same, and which of them are constitutional and which statutory. The terms of all elective state offices are four years, beginning around the middle of January after the legislature, sitting at an electoral college, elects them. All state officers must receive not only a majority of votes at the November election, at which legislators are chosen, but the House of Representatives, when it convenes Tuesday after the first Monday in January, the following year, must also elect such officers by a majority vote, the members voting viva voce.

The constitution provides, however, that the House of Representatives may elect from two candidates for state officers, receiving the highest number of votes at the November election, thus making it possible for the House of Representatives, if a Republican should receive the highest number of votes for governor or other state office, and the Democrat for governor and other state offices the next highest, to elect Democrats. And it may be added in this connection that the legislative re-apportionment, as provided for in the constitution of 1890, gave the majority of representatives to the counties of the state having the preponderance of intelligence.

The elective state offices created by the constitution are as follows: Governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, attorney-general, auditor of public accounts, state treasurer, state superintendent of education, state land commissioner and clerk of the supreme court.

The state elective offices created by statute follow: Insurance commissioner, state tax collector, commissioner of agriculture and commerce. The office of penitentiary trustee, one for and from each of the three supreme court districts, and voted for by the qualified electors of their respective districts, are also statutory officers, as are the railroad commissioners with terms of four years. There are eight highway commissioners, one to be elected for and from each of the eight congressional districts. This is a statutory elective office and the terms are for four years.

There are six supreme court judges who hold eight years each, two of whom are elected for and from each of the three supreme court districts. They are not all elected the same year. There are seventeen circuit judges, one for each on the circuit districts, who are also elected for a term of four years. All these are constitutional offices.

The bill introduced by Senator Hubert D. Stephens providing for an additional Federal judge for Mississippi has passed the Senate. If this bill becomes law, when seems likely, the duties of Judge Edwin R. Holmes, who lives at Yazoo City, will be confined to the Southern District and the new judge will be appointed for and from the northern district.

Mississippi has had three federal judges since the war between the states in the following order: R. A. Hill, of Oxford; Henry C. Niles, of Kosciusko, and Edwin R. Holmes, of Yazoo City. At the breaking out of the war between the states, S. J.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF SAINT STEPHEN'S MEMORIAL SCHOOL

Bro. Andrew's College Day School Has Successful Year
—Appropriate Exercises.

Jackson, Miss., May 31.—The question is frequently asked how many elective state offices there are in Mississippi, the terms of the same, and which of them are constitutional and which statutory. The terms of all elective state offices are four years, beginning around the middle of January after the legislature, sitting at an electoral college, elects them. All state officers must receive not only a majority of votes at the November election, at which legislators are chosen, but the House of Representatives, when it convenes Tuesday after the first Monday in January, the following year, must also elect such officers by a majority vote, the members voting viva voce.

Gholson, of Aberdeen, was the federal judge for Mississippi. He resigned, entered the war, and lost an arm upon the field of battle. He was afterwards a member of the Mississippi legislature.

Charles W. Van Buren, the capable, popular and courageous station master of the Illinois Central system at Jackson, has received a medal from President Coolidge commending his bravery in saving the life of a little girl who was about to be crushed to death by an rapidly approaching engine pulling an express train. While saving the child's life, Mr. Van Buren escaped a miraculous death. During his long and efficient service as station master he has saved a score of lives, sometimes being painfully, but never seriously injured.

Interest grows in the State Democratic Convention, which meets June 5 to send twenty delegates to the National Democratic Convention at Houston on June 26, as the date of its holding approaches. There will be a contest of delegates from several counties which may picturize the session into the night.

Principal is Grateful.

"We have had a successful year," said Bro. Andrew, principal of the school, "and since our friends have helped to such appreciable measure, we feel it not only a duty but a source of gratification to be able to thank each and every one of those who have assisted, and we like to do so through the columns of The Sea Coast Echo. May God bless everyone of them."

Bro. Andrew gave the following list, as our benefactors:

The Very Rev. pastor, A. J. Gmelch, St. Stanislaus College, Mayor Charles Traub, Commissioner S. J. Ladner, Commissioner F. H. Egloff, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Horton, management of the A. & G. theater, Chas. G. Moreau, Publisher The Sea Coast Echo; Mrs. B. R. Engman, godmother of the school; Hon. R. L. Genin, Hon. J. G. Horn, Mr. R. Blaize, R. N. Blaize, Mrs. O. Mauffray, A. R. Hart, C. C. McDonald, Cuvelier Company, Ralph Blaize, Assistant Coach, Milton Phillips, Arthur A. Seafide, Foster Commagere, Mr. Maestri, of New Orleans; August Schiro, Miss Josie E. Welch, "Friend," H. C. Glover, Albert Jones, Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, A. Seafide, Sr., Mrs. E. J. LaCoste, G. Seafide, Mrs. E. J. Leonhard, J. Curret, New Orleans; Monti Bros., Eugene B. Blaize.

Rev. Father Gmelch gave the pupils of the school their annual picnic last Wednesday at Lakeshore. Mrs. E. J. LaCoste and Mrs. G. Boh were the ladies in charge. The weather was ideal and the spot selected could not have lent itself more fittingly. Needless to say the day was one never to be forgotten of childhood days.

Cardui acted as a fine tonic.

"I don't see why women will drag around, in a half-hearted way, never feeling well, barely able to drag, when Cardui might help them on their feet, as it did me," says Mrs. Geo. S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga.

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks.

"I could not work and just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin. I went from a hundred and twenty-six pounds down to less than a hundred.

"I sent to the store for Cardui, and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. My side hurt less, and I began to mend in health.

"Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I do not feel like the same person. I am well now, and still gaining."

"For sale by druggists, everywhere. Give it a trial."

Nolan Ladner, Tom Lee, Russell Ladner each hit a three-bagger, while our "Babe" Harold Bourgeois, hit a homer in the sixth inning. Wilbur Bourgeois pitched fine ball, getting 13 strikeouts. The Macabees have some good games scheduled for the home diamond real soon.

"Ramona" at A. & G. Theater.

"Ramona" will be the feature attraction at the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday evenings, with early beginning Sunday. It is said to be one of biggest attractions on the screen for the forthcoming season.

Mrs. Blau will feature as the music theme the song, "Ramona," throughout the program. The film, and on Sunday, the local product, will star in illustrated song.

Elton Hunt Jackson, author of "Ramona," wrote the story with as deliberate a purpose as did the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

In fact, historians refer to "Ramona" as the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" of the Indians.

That much interest was manifested in the Saturday night hop at the Bay-Waveland Yacht club preceding the motor boat races Sunday is best proven by the attendance and pleasure of the evening. There was an unusually large attendance and great from New Orleans and along the Coast were motor boats from New Orleans supplied the music. Mr. George J. Foen, secretary of the Yacht club, managed the affair, assisted by Misses Chas. A. Breath and Emilio Cune, originators of the motor boat event.
